“Leave all thoughts of the world you knew before. Let your soul take you where you long to be... close your eyes, let your spirit start to soar, and you’ll live as you’ve never lived before.”

-- Erich Fromm, philosopher

Dear Soon-To-Be-Published Author,

You are about to embark on an amazing journey—one that will take you to the achievement of becoming a published author.

Take it from someone who knows—there’s nothing like the feeling of holding your very own book in your hands and being a published author. I still remember the feeling of autographing a copy of my first book for friends and family, too. I was smiling from ear to ear, and so were they!

Now is the time for you to take action and get going on your own book and claim your role as a leader. Yes, writing a book and becoming a published author will prove to others that you have the credibility and expertise and strong belief in what you do, however, I already know in my heart you possess all those characters and so much more—YOU are a leader!

And NOW is the time to tell the world, so let’s get started!

All my best,

Donna Kozik,
2-time "Grand Award"
winning author, founder of MyBigBusinessCard.com and the
"Write a Book in a Weekend Club" on Facebook

Sometimes the questions are complicated and the answers are simple.
